

TESTED IN A WIND TUNNEL PROVEN ON THE ROAD

Triple Vent System, the new patent pending ventilation system on select H-D® jackets.

Our MotorClothes® and motorcycle product development teams worked side-by-side for countless hours in a wind tunnel testing, tweaking and refining the jacket to determine the most optimal vent locations and then evaluated the results on computer generated models, the open road and in traffic.

The outcome? The most advanced air management system for riding gear ever developed. Not only does the Triple Vent System significantly enhance comfort for riders and passengers, it also maintains the rebellious and authentic appeal of Harley-Davidson's classic leather jackets.

Wind tunnel tested on the all new Project RUSHMORE touring motorcycles

Venting extends to the armpits to maximize airflow at speed and allows the jacket and you to breathe even when idling

Designed specifically for Harley-Davidson® motorcycles with fairings and windshields to ensure air flows vigorously through rider and and passenger jackets

*Three vents are better than two.
Triple Vent System gives you 50% more ventilation area than our traditional H-D® vented jackets.*

HARLEY-DAVIDSON'S PIONEERING TRIPLE VENT SYSTEM

- » Three strategically placed vents on each side of the jacket allow for dozens of ways to customize your comfort level.
- » Strategically placed snap tabs hold vents open, maximizing air flow.
- » Design and placement of vents allows for an upward air current from front to back on the jackets with vents progressing from low to high and back to front. This provides less resistance to air flowing through the jacket.
